Creating Art
ENGAGING COMMUNITY

1 Annie Rawle
Settlers Cottage, 180 Pearson St, Churchlands

Annie works in 2D and 3D using mixed media. Her abstract works use repeated elements to explore sometimes random patterns and rhythms in life. Overlaid simple shapes interact to create harmony from chaos. Choice of media is often instinctual and includes textiles, acrylics, wood, wire etc. Recently, simple mechanical, hand-cranked kinetic features have added a playful element that echo her themes.

2 Ben Brennan
105 Royal St, Tuart Hill

Recipient of the City of Stirling's '2021 Local Artist Award', Ben Brennan is an artist worth seeing. Ben paints dramatic red landscapes of Western Australia using aerosol and acrylic, producing emotion filled artworks. Exploring the landscape using abstracted shapes and colours, he accurately captures the energy of Western Australia's Gold Fields and Wheatbelt regions. Ben Brennan is an exciting artist to collect and follow.

6 Linda O'Brien
25 Rockliff Ave, Karrinyup

Linda's journey is forever seeking to portray light and it's effect on luminosity and colour.

Her subject matter is diverse and these days prefers to let her paintings evolve spontaneously from the heart, arising in an intuitive and more energetic fashion.

Linda's artwork has received numerous accolades across most mediums. Pastel remains her favourite, with classes being held weekly at her home studio.

7 Lindy Midalia
27 Lewin Wy, Scarborough

The Indian Ocean, southwest Forests and the red earth of the Northwest is where Lindy finds inspiration for her paintings. Lindy's mediums are pastels, oils, Acrylics and mixed media. Lindy is continually exploring methods and techniques she feels the subjects need to deliver her vision in her art practice. A fascination with the costumes of Geisha has also led to exploring this subject.

13 Victoria Malone
16 Elliott Rd, Trigg

Clay is Victoria Malone's medium. Glazing is her passion. She trained in the TAFE system which was outcome based. On qualifying she set out to be a functional potter with a range of tableware. Victoria adapted her range to the trends. This required investigation into different surface treatments. Her focus now is in the surface of the pots. Victoria loves the making of the vessels. Her experience in glaze technology is the essence of the surfaces. Victoria specializes in Crystalline glazes where the crystals grow within the glaze.
